

Tai Po Old Market Public School

Treasure Island
2023

CONTENTS

P.1

My Favourite Animal

01-02

My Magic Box

03-04

P.2

My New Pet

05-06

A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed

07-08

P.3

Special Dish for Chinese New Year

09-12

A Magical Book Adventure

13-17

P.4

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

18-26

Now and Then

27

P.5

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

28-35

My Kite

36-37

P.6

A Fantasy Kingdom

38-45

The Greatest Invention

46-49

My Favourite Animal

1A Karis Yu Lok Hei

This is my favourite toy "Big Mouth". It is small. I can play with it everywhere for the whole day. Grandmother bought it for me. She loves me very much!

"Big Mouth" is a black bird. It has big eyes, a big yellow mouth and a red bow. It sits quietly on the tree. When I press the button, it sings as loud as me!

I love its speedy funny voice! When I sing "one, two, three", it will sing "one, two, three" back. It sings as good as me!

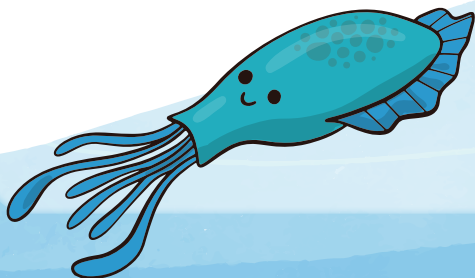

1A Wan Hoi Ching

This is my cat. It's name is kitty. I like Kitty because it is cute and lovely. It has a big face and big mouth, also it has small eyes and short ears. It is orange and brown. I can see Kitty at my home. It likes to eat fish. It likes to play yarn ball.

1A Wong Nok Lam

My favourite animal is a rabbit. I love rabbits because they are cute. Rabbits are small with soft fur. They have long ears and big eyes. They have short and round tails. They are brown and white. Rabbits like eating carrots and vegetables. They like jumping. Rabbits are funny.

My Favourite Animal

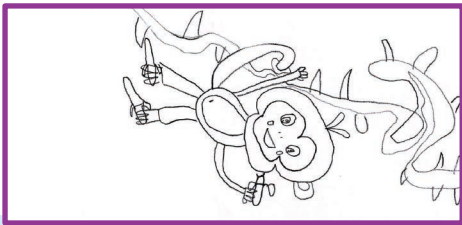

1C Law Yik Kwan

Do you like animals? I like animals very much. However, my favourite animal no longer exists on the earth. They were made extinct 60 million years ago in the Cretaceous period. I have learned about dinosaurs by using varied sources such as movies, books, exhibitions and the internet.

Let me tell you some characteristics of them. Firstly, they can be divided into three types depending on what they eat: herbivore (eat plants only), carnivore (eat meat only) and omnivore (eat both plants and meat). Although they are all different, they all lay eggs. Secondly, the sizes of their bodies are different and the range is quite large. They can be as small as a turkey or as tall as a construction crane. Thirdly, different kinds of dinosaurs have different skin textures. It can be scaly or feathered. But those with feathers may not be able to fly.

In addition, my favourite dinosaur is Tyrannosaurus (T. Rex). I like that because it has a big mouth with sharp teeth and strong legs which can run very fast to catch prey. The big tail also has the function of defence and attack. But I dislike the hands of the T.Rex which are too small and weak in comparison to its body.

If you want to know more about my favourite animal, just search 'DINOSAUR'.

1B Ge Yin Nam

My favourite animal lives in the jungle. It is brown and red. It has a long tail. It likes to swing up in the trees. Bananas are its favourite food. You often see it in Kam Shan Country Park. Do you know what my favourite animal is? It is a monkey. Monkeys are cute and clever.

1D Wan Hei Yu

My favourite animals are rabbits because they look lovely and are playful animals. Rabbits are small animals with two round eyes and long ears. Rabbits have many colors such as white, brown and grey. We can see them on farms and pet shops. Rabbits eat vegetables and carrots are their favourite food. They like hopping around. Rabbits are nice and friendly so I like playing with them.

My Magic Box

1B Chan Kwan Yiu

Last night when I was sleeping I heard a noise below my bed. I took a peak and I saw a box. It was a glowing yellow light so bright that I had to look away. Then, the box opened. There was a teapot inside. Some smoke came out of it. The smoke became a genie and he said, “You never had a friend like me!” He gave me three wishes but he was a silly genie. He made all my wishes become silly wishes. However, I had made a good friend with the genie.

1B Clement Chan

One day, I saw a box inside the TV. I opened it and it sucked me into the Digimon World. Suddenly, my body started to turn to metal. There were two cannons on my back. Oh! I turned into a Digimon! I walked alone in the forest. I saw a bad Furrymon and I battled with it. I won. After that, I decided to stay in the Digimon World and maintain world peace.

1C Ho Tsz Ching

One day, I went to my friend’s home. We saw a big purple box in the kitchen. “What is that?” asked my friend. “I don’t know,” I said. I opened the box and saw a witch with a green face in it. We were scared. The witch gave us a red rope. The red rope took us to a dark room with many spiders. There was a little monster. We thought it would eat us. But, it gave us a cake and took us back home. We found that there was a cake in the kitchen and suddenly the magic box was gone. “What an amazing box!” I said.

1C Lam Si Hang

One day, I take a magic box to visit my friend.

We open the box in the bedroom.

A magic book appears! It is about travelling. When I turn to page four, it takes us to Japan, When I turn to page ten, it takes us to Australia. The book takes us everywhere.

My Magic Box

1D Li Cheuk Yin

Yesterday, I found a magic box in my garden. When I opened it, I found that there was a magic door in it. The magic door teleported me to the Minecraft World. It was mysterious! I wanted to share the magic box with my best friend.

Today, I take my magic box and meet Hinson. When we open the box, the magic begins to glow. Then, we enter the Minecraft world, and we start our adventure. We can create our favourite things there. We have so much fun.

It is so amazing!

1D Cheng Yan Hei

One day, I took my magic box to visit my friend Ada.

When we opened the magic box, the shiny key took me and my friend Ada on an adventure.

We went to a palace under the sea and played with Princess Mermaid.

Then, we changed into mermaids too. Suddenly, the shiny key took us back home.

My New Pet

2D Chan Ching Yu

My friend Jessica is a scientist. She told me that she had created a new machine that could mix different animals together. One day she asked me, "Hanna, if you can get a new pet, what do you want your new pet to look like?" She said she wanted to make me a new pet, I was so happy!

I started trying to imagine what I wanted my new pet to look like. Finally, I told Jessica, "I want my new pet to look like a polar bear, with 2 layers of soft white fur. It makes me warm when I hug it. It has pink wings like a flamingo that grow on its back like an angel. It also has a pair of long ears like a rabbit and has a silly and shy personality. After a few days, Jessica brought me a small animal, which had all the characteristics I mentioned. I was overjoyed and I named it Sugar. I love it so much!

2C Valerie Kot

I've always wanted to fly in the sky. When my friend told me he could make a new pet animal for me, I decided to mix a pony and a bird together. My new pet can take me to school without getting stuck in a traffic jam. It would be great if my new pet has soft and shiny feathers. When it spreads its wings, they sparkle like a diamond. I am looking forward to travelling around the world with my pet!

2C So Hei Yin

If I can make a new pet, I want a cat, a unicorn and a fish mix together. The name of my new pet is Pinky. Its face looks like a cat. It has soft fur. Its ears are small and it has two big eyes. It has colourful wings that take me to fly everywhere. It also has fish tail and swims with me in the sea. It likes to eat candy and ice cream, same as me. It also plays and talks with me every day. It is cute and lovely. I love it very much. I want my new pet to be a unicorn cat mermaid. Do you want this pet?

My New Pet

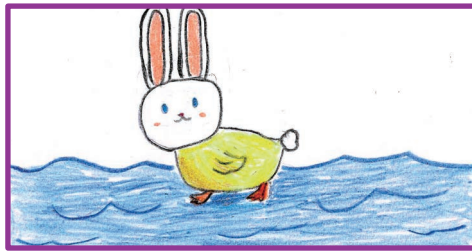

2D Lau Chi To

I want to have a new pet from my friend. My friend has a machine that mixes a cat with a bird together. My new pet's name is Mimi. She has grey fur and her paws are black. Her two big eyes are blue and bright. She has pointy pink ears and a long tail. She is special and has a pair of beautiful wings.

She likes playing with balls of yarn. She likes to play on the rainbow slide in the sky. She also likes to play hide-and-seek with the clouds.

Look! What a nice cat! I can share my happiness with her. I will take care of her forever.

2D Chan Ching Yu

One day, I met my friend, Peter in the park. "Kaylie, I have a machine that can mix different animals together. Do you want to try?" Peter asked. "Sure! It sounds interesting!" I replied. "I like rabbits so I want to mix a rabbit with other other animals. Since rabbits are lovely, I want to keep the head of the rabbit but I love the eyes of cats. They are beautiful, especially the blue eyes. They look like gems."

"How about the body?" Peter asked.

"A duck." I said.

"A duck?" Peter asked surprisingly.

"Yes, I hope my new pet can swim with me." I said happily.

A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed

2A Liam So

My best friend is Marcus. He was my first friend when I studied in primary school. We are in the same class.

Marcus is strong and fat. He likes playing football. We always play football after school.

Last Saturday, We went to the Ocean Park together. It was a wonderful experience. I feel happy when I play with him.

Marcus is kind and helpful. He helps me solve problems. I like him very much. He is my best friend.

2A Lianne So

I have many friends in school. But Yahmi is my best friend. We are in the same class. We are classmates.

She is tall and beautiful. She has big eyes and long hair.

We read and study together. We went to Disneyland together. It was an unforgettable experience. I feel great when I play with her.

Yanmi is helpful. She always helps me to do my homework. She is good at English. We always study in the classroom.

I love You Yanmi and she loves me. We are best friends.

2A Chu Nga Wang

My friend is Rex. He has small eyes and a big mouth. He is cheerful and friendly. We go to school on foot together.

We went to Ocean Park last Saturday. We rode the roller coaster. It was exciting. We also rode on the cable car. The scenery was very beautiful. We took a lot of photos there!

I like Rex very much. I enjoy every moment we spend together.

A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed

2B Au-Yeung Shui Sheng

I have a friend, Priya. Priya is a kind girl. She looks very pretty. She has a big mouth, small nose and a pair of big eyes. She also has long hair. She is taller than me.

Priya and I always go to a park near our home afterschool. We like playing on slides and swings in the park. Sometimes, we ride bicycles and fly a kite too. I am very happy when I play with her.

However, I got hurt when I fell off the bicycle one day. Priya picked me up and helped me to clean my wound. I was afraid. She told me that it would be fine and calm down. After a few minutes, I felt better then we went home together.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to her. I hope we can keep the friendship forever!

2B Yang Ka Chun

Kinsley is my best friend.

He has short hair, small eyes, and a small mouth. He looks like a handsome boy. At rest time, we eat fish balls near the tuck shop. Today, I give him some chocolate biscuits. We enjoy the delicious food together. Afterschool, I go to the park with him. He has a lovely dog called Bobby. We play together very happily. Sometimes, I help him clean his pet too.

2C Koon Tsz Sen

I have a good friend. Her name is Jessica. She is seven years old. She has big eyes, a small nose, small ears and a big mouth. She looks like a rabbit.

We go to the park every day. We play on the swing and slide. Sometimes we also play hide-and-seek. We feel very happy. We will laugh together.

We will help each other. I helped her tidy the schoolbag. She helped me get the umbrella. We are best friends. I like to play with her every day. She is a good girl.

2D Wong Hei Ching

My best friend is Hannah. She is tall. She has a small mouth and two big eyes. She is good at swimming.

Last Sunday was a sunny day. We went to the beach together. The water was very clean and the sand was hot. Unfortunately I nearly drowned in the sea and I waved my hand. Then she jumped into the sea and saved me.

I appreciate her for saving my life, after that we became best friends.

3A Wan Yee Kiu

Chinese New Year is coming, and I am going to make some clementine rice balls for the festival. I make rice balls in the shape of clementines to wish all of us good luck.

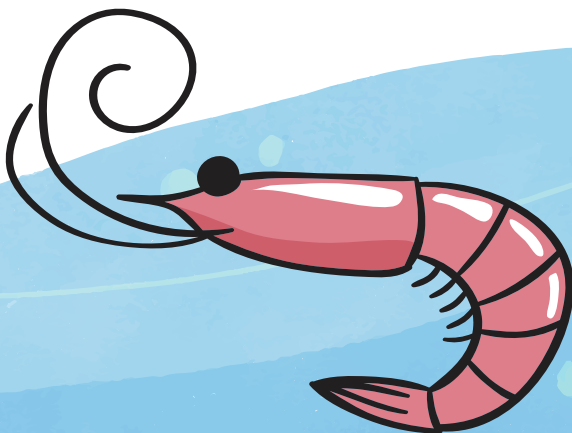

The ingredients are glutinous rice flour, water, black sesame stuffing, food colouring, brown sugar bars, and ginger.

First, put the glutinous rice flour into a large bowl and add water to the glutinous rice flour four times. Mix well to form a smooth dough. Knead the dough until it is firm and not sticky. Then, take out two small portions of the dough and add brown and green food colouring respectively. Knead the coloured dough until it is well combined and cover it with cling wrap for later use. Next, add the orange food colouring into the remaining dough and mix it well. All the dough is now ready.

Then, divide the orange dough into 10g portions and knead each portion into a ball. After that, flatten an orange dough ball with your hands and put the black sesame filling in the middle. Gather and pinch the dough together to seal it and roll it into a ball again. Then, take a little brown dough and knead it into a long shape. Put it on top of the orange rice ball to resemble a stem. Next, knead the green dough into a small oval shape and create leaf patterns with a toothpick.

After that, boil a pot of water and add some brown sugar and slices of ginger into the pot. Then, gently put the clementine rice balls into the pot one by one. Cook until the rice balls float up. Finally, take out the rice balls and put them into a bowl.

They taste sweet and delicious. I will share this dessert with my family during Chinese New Year, hoping for good luck for all of us.

Special Dish for Chinese New Year

3B Chan Yin Nok

Chinese New Year is approaching, and I would like to make sweet rice balls for the festival. Sweet rice balls are a traditional Chinese dessert served during Chinese New Year, symbolizing togetherness and family reunion. That's why I want to prepare this dish for the New Year celebrations.

Sweet rice balls are an easy-to-make and delicious family dessert. The ingredients are simple and straightforward. You'll need rice flour and water for the dough, as well as black sesame seeds, brown sugar, butter, melted chocolate, and mashed strawberries for the filling. I decided to add chocolate and strawberries to make it extra special since my parents love them.

The required ingredients are as follows: 60g of toasted black sesame seeds, 50g of brown sugar, 85g of unsalted butter, 200g of glutinous rice flour, 60g of melted chocolate, 50g of mashed strawberries, and 200mL of warm water.

Now, let me guide you through the steps.

First, blend the sesame seeds with brown sugar until finely ground. Next, mix in the butter and blend again. Transfer the filling onto a plate and refrigerate for 30 minutes or freeze for 15 minutes to solidify the butter. Once the filling has firmed up, shape it into small balls using your hands. The filling should be easy to roll. Once all the fillings are ready, store them in the fridge or freezer.

Now it's time to prepare the dough. Mix water into the sweet rice flour and stir until a dough mass forms. Transfer the dough onto a lightly floured surface. Take a small piece of dough and roll it into a ball. Gently press the center and add the sesame, strawberries, and chocolate fillings. Slowly smooth the dough over the fillings, ensuring they are sealed inside. Roll the dough again to shape a ball. Finally, boil the portion of sweet rice balls you plan to serve.

The taste of sweet rice balls is sweet, and the texture is smooth and sticky. They are absolutely delicious. Once you have one, it's hard to resist eating all of them. I want to share this dish with my parents, sister, and grandparents, as it is traditionally enjoyed with loved ones. I hope they experience happiness when they taste my homemade sweet rice balls.

Special Dish for Chinese New Year

3B Sit Lam Yi

The Spring Festival is my favorite festival. According to Chinese tradition, we have a family reunion to enjoy a New Year's Eve dinner, which is the most important feast. This year, I plan to make a special dish called "Rabbit Dumplings with Pineapple Sauce" for my family.

Did you know that dumplings are considered lucky food in Chinese culture? It's because their shape symbolizes wealth. The ingredients for this dish include plenty of dumpling wrappers, a generous amount of minced pork, some carrots, some corn, and a large quantity of spring onions.

First, I dice all the vegetables into small cubes. Then, I mix them thoroughly with the minced pork. After that, I add soy sauce, salt, and oil to season the mixture. Finally, I fill the mixture into the dumpling wrappers and fold them into purse-like shapes.

Next, I deep-fry the dumplings. Before serving, I cook some pineapples with syrup to prepare the pineapple sauce.

Since 2023 is the Year of the Rabbit, I have a fantastic idea! I'll cut some carrots into the shape of rabbit ears and place them on the dumplings to make them resemble rabbits. Aren't they adorable? I hope my family will appreciate this special dish!

3C Chan Ting Hang

Chinese New Year is coming, and Mum and I are going to make a special dish for the festival. Mum told me that she will make turnip cakes. Mum said we need carrots, rice flour, corn flour, sausages, meat, mushrooms, and shrimps. I asked, "How do we make this special dish?" Mum replied, "First, we will cut the carrots. Then, we'll use some rice flour and corn flour, and cut some sausages. Then, cut some meat, mushrooms, and shrimp. Lastly, mix them together and put them into the oven. Then, you can get a turnip cake."

I tasted it. It was very yummy. Mum shared it with my sister. They said, "It is very yummy. It was the happiest day ever!"

Special Dish for Chinese New Year

3D Chan Tze Ki

Chinese New Year is approaching, and I am planning to make a special dish for the festival. I will be preparing a dish called Superb Abalone Poon Choi.

The ingredients include abalone, roast meat, roast goose, chicken, prawns, mushrooms, and pork skin.

First, I will wash the abalone, chicken parts, prawns, mushrooms, and pork skin. Then, I will heat up the oil pan and fry the chicken, mushrooms, and pork skin with garlic and the secret sauce. Afterward, I will put all the ingredients into the rice cooker and wait for half an hour. The Superb Abalone Poon Choi will be ready. It is expected to be delicious. I am looking forward to sharing it with my grandpa and grandma on the first day of Chinese New Year.

3D Lam Pak Chun

To celebrate Chinese New Year, I am planning to make an ice-cream fruit salad. It will consist of twenty grapes, one pineapple, three bananas, six kiwis, and one box of ice cream.

First, we need to wash all the fruits. Next, we will cut them into slices and place them into a bowl.

Then, we will add the ice cream and mix everything together with a spoon. The special dish will be complete!

I will share the dish with my two sisters. It will be a yummy and delicious treat!

3D Chan Hoi Ying

Chinese New Year is approaching, and I would like to make a cheese sandwich. I will need a few ingredients, including an egg, some cheese, lettuce, and bread.

First, I will cut two slices of bread. Then, I will cook the egg and place it on one of the bread slices. Next, I will wash the lettuce, cut it into small pieces, and add them on top of the egg. Finally, I will place the cheese on the lettuce and cover it with the other bread slice. The sandwich will be ready.

I shared it with my mum, and she said, "It is delicious, thank you." I am happy to have prepared food for my mum for the first time.

When I Went Into a Book

3A Heung Man Shing

One year ago, something weird happened to me. I went into my favourite book! I remembered that day when I had to make a book report, so I grabbed my favourite book, "Captain Underpants and the Terrifying Return of Tippy Tinkletrousers." When I opened the book, there was a button. Curiously, I pressed the button, and suddenly I was zapped back in time, two years ago. As I opened my eyes, I found myself in a gas station. I saw my friends George and Harold being bullied by Kipper, Bugg, Loogie, and Finkstein. "Leave them alone, or else I'll beat you," I said. "Really? You think you can beat us?" the bullies said. So I stood up to them and fought back. "Uncle Benny! That kid beat us up!" said Kipper. "Oh, really? You three are getting detention for this year!" said the crazy headmaster.

Once we were sent to the detention room, I told my friends to learn some Taekwondo for self-protection. So, I taught them some Taekwondo moves. After learning, we decided to make some comics. I gave them a pencil, an eraser, and some oil pastels for them to draw and write.

The next day, we spied on the bullies. "Let's prank them during their classes and lunchtime. Let's order the spiciest pizza for the bullies," I suggested. "Yeah! Let's do it to punish them. Well, actually, let's just play it by ear," said George. "I'm all ears," added Harold.

Later, we sneaked out of school and went to the pizza shop. We ordered the pizza and asked the delivery guy to deliver the pizzas at one o'clock. Then, we gave the bullies the pizza. When they took their first bite, they went bananas because it was too spicy. Ring ring ring. "Was that all just a dream?" I murmured. But when I opened my book, there were no more buttons. "That was an adventure!" I murmured again.

A Magical Book Adventure

A Dream? Not a Dream?

3A Cyrus Lau Yat Sum

After coming home from school one day, I went to the public library. I opened my favourite book, and a character came out from the pages. He said, "Why are you still here? We have a mission! Let's go!" Before I could finish my sentence, a beam of light shot over my body!

After the beam passed over me, I found myself in a white room. I felt very heavy, as if I were carrying a huge and heavy rock. Then I walked into a small, black cone with a door and a small window. I could barely fit inside the cone, and it wasn't very comfortable. On the cone, I saw the words "Freedom 7." I was curious about how it was related to me. "Wait, am I replacing Alan Shepard? That couldn't be true!" I thought, but before I could reply to myself, I was picked up by a crane and placed inside the rocket. "Don't dwell on such thoughts. Just do it!" I told myself. It finally dawned on me that this "cone" was actually a capsule.

I waited for probably an hour or so, and Mission Control started counting down, "ten, nine, eight, seven..." Luckily, I found the "Ignition" button, so I pressed it. Mission Control announced, "We have ignition!" A few seconds later, "Liftoff!" The sound was deafening as the rocket roared through the sky. I felt myself firmly pressed into my seat.

Not long after, the engine suddenly stopped. I heard the command, "Abort!" I quickly pressed the glowing red "Abort" button. I detached from the rocket, and then I deployed the parachute. "Kaboom!" The rocket exploded, but I safely splashed down into the ocean. I survived the disaster! I closed my eyes and waited for the rescue team.

Suddenly, I found myself back in the library! "What was that? It's probably just a dream," I thought. I continued reading my book and came across a picture of a space-suit that looked identical to the one I had just worn. The name tag on the suit even appeared to have my name on it! The experience couldn't have been just a dream, or could it?

The Magic in Books

3B Pang Yuet Kiu

Reading is my favorite hobby, and I love reading all kinds of books. But when I read a book called The 13 Storey Treehouse, it reminded me of a thing that you can't imagine.

After another joyful day of school, I went to the public library near my home. I always loved going there because I had a lot of good memories there. I marched to a table and sat down on a chair. I randomly chose a book and opened it. I couldn't believe my eyes when the main character called Jill flew on Silky the cat and her crew to chase Andy! Jill snapped, "Come back to the book, Andy!" But Andy closed the book immediately, and I heard a loud bang. Andy said, "Why am I so tiny? I must tell the real Andy!" Then he dashed away. I thought, "Oh no! He ran away! Now other people can't see him from the storybook! I must catch him."

I looked at the wall. There was a poster that said, "Meet Andy - the famous author of the Story Treehouse series on the third floor!" Then, I raced to the lift and went inside. I pressed the button, and after the lift opened, I saw Andy jumping on the real Andy's shoulder. I shouted, "Don't do that, Andy!" Everyone stared at me. I quickly explained that Andy ran away from the book. I also asked them if they could help catch Andy. Everyone laughed. They thought it was a joke. Only the real Andy responded, "Okay, I will help you."

I told Andy to look for something black, gray, and white. Andy's eyes were like a magnifier. He spotted Andy quickly. I scooped Andy up and put him in my pocket. He grumbled. Then the real Andy took the book out in front of me. I opened the book and put him back inside the book. I said thank you to Andy, and I asked for his autograph because I am a big fan of his books. Andy said, "In books, as in dreams, there is magic. The secret of being a good writer is imagination."

A Magical Book Adventure

Monkey King Invites me to The Mountain of Flower and Fruits

3C Fung Sze Chun

After returning home from school today, I headed to the public library. I opened my favorite book, and to my surprise, the Monkey King leaped out from its pages! I was astonished! He said, "I know you're a big fan of mine! I'd like to invite you to visit my home, the Mountain of Flowers and Fruits!" I exclaimed, "How marvelous!" As we left the library, I noticed a large white cloud floating in the air. The Monkey King took my hand, and we stood upon the cloud. Together, we soared through the sky! It was my first time standing on a cloud, and the experience filled me with excitement. From up above, I saw countless mountains, rivers, and roads that appeared tiny. In just a minute, we arrived at our destination. The Monkey King asked, "What do you think of my home?" I replied, "It's absolutely beautiful! The flowers are blooming, and the trees are filled with big, pink peaches!"

Suddenly, I heard a chorus of monkeys shouting, "Our king has returned!" They gathered numerous peaches for the king and me. I expressed my gratitude, saying, "Thank you. It's truly an honor to be a guest here. These peaches are so juicy and delicious! They're the best peaches I've ever tasted!" Then, I requested the king to showcase his magical staff. It could shrink down to the size of a needle or extend as long as a road. The Monkey King retrieved his staff from his ear and presented it to me. Just as I was about to hold the staff, my alarm clock began to ring. "Oh! It was only a dream."

What a wonderful dream it was! I long to meet the Monkey King again and again!

An Amazing Day

3C Kwok Cho Hei

After coming home from school one day, I went to the public library. I opened my favorite book, and a character emerged from its pages. It was the Monkey King, Sun Wukong! I was shocked. "Hello, do you have anything to eat?" the Monkey King asked. "No, I don't. Let's go outside. I can buy some snacks for you," I replied excitedly.

The Monkey King looked around curiously and jumped everywhere. I bought my favorite potato chips for him. When we were on the way back to the library, we saw a flash of light. He said, "Thank you very much!" to me and disappeared. I ran back to the library and opened the same book. There were potato chips in the Monkey King's hand. "It was not a dream!" I screamed.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

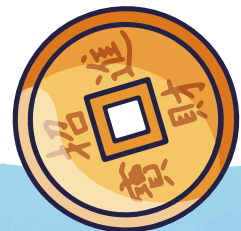

4A Chan Yuk Tsun

“Oh! I’m late!” Santa Claus shouted out loudly in bed. He wore his lovely pyjamas and was accompanied by his best friend, a reindeer. He didn’t remember clearly about what happened last night. “Hey! I was diagnosed with Covid-19 few months ago. My memory is getting worse. Am I having brain fog?” Santa thought. He immediately changed clothes and started to give presents in town. He enjoyed his job very much.

He carried a huge red bag full of Christmas presents, and entered one of the children's houses through the chimney. He discovered there were no more Christmas trees or wreaths. The house was full of Chinese New Year couplets. “Who are you?” Santa pointed at the God of Wealth (Caishen) surprisedly. “Ha ha, it’s already January! You are out-dated!” Caishen laughed. Santa made an angry face and yelled, “Don’t be too arrogant! I’m more handsome and stronger than you. I’m the most popular person among children.”

“Yo! I’m just kidding! You are my favourite idol. Please give me a present, and I’ll give you a red pocket.” Caishen replied politely.

Finally, they looked at each other with a smile. They decided to go busking in Mong Kok. Santa sang while Caishen played electric guitar. This is the best street performance in Hong Kong. It’s also a good example of Chinese - Western culture communication!

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4A Tanya Lo

As Santa climbed carefully across one of the rooftops in Hong Kong, his mind was filled with worries. He had slept through the whole of December. Now, it was January and he had to deliver all the presents before it was too late!

“Who goes there?” exclaimed a voice in the darkness. Santa looked around, “Who are you?” he asked curiously.

“I’m the God of Wealth!” Caishen replied, “and you must be a thief!”

Caishen and Santa had never met before. As Santa was carrying a sack full of things and it was the middle of the night, Caishen automatically thought he was a burglar. So he warned Santa that if he went into the house to steal things, he would make Santa disappear off the face of the Earth!

Confused and offended, Santa began to shout at Caishen. Caishen pushed Santa and a fight broke out. “Stop! Stop!” cried Santa, “I have something to show you!” Santa ran across the rooftop and grabbed his sack full of presents, he opened it and showed it to Caishen. He explained that he had overslept in December and that he needed to deliver all the presents as quickly as possible.

Caishen was gobsmacked and apologised to Santa. He also explained why he was there, to deliver red envelopes! “Why don’t we work together?” suggested Santa enthusiastically.

Caishen thought this was a fantastic idea! So, they spent the rest of the night working as a team, to deliver all the Christmas presents and red envelopes to everyone in Hong Kong.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4A Hong Kai Tang

One December, Santa was preparing wonderful gifts for the children around the world. Then, he waited for the big day and went to sleep. In his dream, Santa dreamed that he was sailing out on a boat. The boat rocked and rocked. He had a weird feeling that something was happening... “Wake up! Wake up! It’s already January and you haven’t given the gifts out to the children!” Santa’s elf, Hanson yelled in a panic and tried hard to push Santa out of his bed.

“Oh no, I missed the entire period of Christmas. I didn’t give out the gifts on Christmas Eve. I’m going to get fired from this job! Got to hop on the reindeer and give out the gifts in the new year.” thought Santa while wolfing down a loaf of bread in one go. He hopped on his sleigh and told his lead reindeer to speed up. But something was wrong with the reindeer. Instead of going to America, it was starting to go to China. Santa yanked the ropes attached to the reindeers to the left, telling them that they were going the wrong direction, the reindeers still won’t budge. “What’s wrong with you guys? Aren’t we supposed to go south-west?” At this point, there was no way of telling the reindeers because they had already started going faster and faster and faster...

A few minutes later, Santa landed in China, but as he was about to go back, he met the God of Wealth Caishen himself. “Oh wow, Kung hei fat choi! It’s Santa Claus. What are you doing here in January?” asked Caishen. “Err, I overslept in December and now I’m giving gifts out in January!” said Santa awkwardly. “That’s alright!” said Caishen. “Here, I’ll give you a potion to pour on your gifts. It will be sent to the receiver immediately!” said Caishen. “Thanks, that will be great!” said Santa as he poured the potion on the gifts. “I’d better be on my way? Bye!” “Bye!” Caishen replied.

Back at the north pole, Santa was relieved. It was a transforming and enriching experience. “This was the best once in a blue moon Christmas and January ever!”

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4B Siu Pak Kiu

When Santa Claus was riding reindeer sleigh across the sky, he saw a large group of people on the ground surrounding a fat old man. The old man had a long beard, was wearing a great fancy hat and Chinese costume in red and gold. There was a big Chinese word “cai” in front of the costume.

Santa asked one of the crowd what was going on. The person explained that he was the popular God of Wealth. No matter if you are rich or poor, people would like to worship him in order to get luck and blessings from him. Everyone comes to the God of Wealth who gives red pockets to the crowd. Everyone is happy.

Santa suddenly came up with an idea. He decided to learn from the God of Wealth to give Christmas money to people in a designated location. Therefore, he did not need to spend time secretly bringing Christmas gifts to people’s homes at midnight. It saved time and he had the opportunity to meet the people to witness their happy faces. It would be so much fun.

“Ho! Ho! Ho!” Santa kept laughing when he was thinking of his new plan. He laughed so loudly that it woke himself. Santa said, “Oh! It was a dream.” He looked at the calendar and realized that it was midnight on the twenty-fourth of December. He said to his reindeer, “It’s time to send gifts, let’s go!”

Santa then rode on the reindeer sleigh which gradually disappeared in the starry sky.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

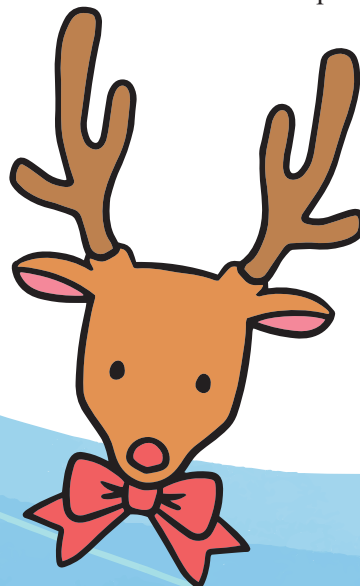

4B Lau Chung Hok

“Wake up!” Reindeer snapped. Santa replied, “What’s the time? Give me five more minutes.” When Santa checked his phone, he was stunned to find out it was already January! He thought, “I missed Christmas and I didn’t give out any presents to people. What should I do?”

Suddenly, a person came out of nowhere! It was the God of Wealth. Santa remembered it was Chinese New Year and he could give red packets and this festival’s food. He asked, “Could I have ten thousand hundred-dollar bills, please?” The God of Wealth was very kind and agreed to do that. Santa was relieved and thankful.

After the God of Wealth left, Santa and reindeers started to pack the red packets. After five hours, they finished but they still needed to buy festive food. They bought a lot of them like Spring Roll, Tangyuan, Niangao etc.

On the day of Chinese New Year, Santa wore Chinese clothes and went to give out the stuff. Seeing the red packets made everybody excited. He thought, “Even if I missed Christmas, people are still happy to get presents today. Thank you, the God of Wealth!” At last, Santa learnt that he should never oversleep.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4B Cheung Shin Yee

Santa overslept in December. When he woke up, it was already January! He met the God of Wealth, Caishen. They became good friends. Caishen said, "How about we spent the Chinese New Year together?" Santa agreed happily.

On Chinese New Year's Eve, Caishen and Santa went to Disneyland for a staycation. They played many games like Space Flying Saucer, Star Wars Speed Shuttle and Iron Man Flight Journey. They felt very joyful! At night, they went to the castle to watch a fireworks display. This was the first time that Santa watched a fireworks display. He was amazed! When the show was over, Santa exclaimed, "That was wonderful!"

When they came back to the hotel, Caishen and Santa went to sleep after a shower. However, Santa can't help thinking of the amazing fireworks. He couldn't sleep! Suddenly, Santa had a bad idea! He sneaked to the castle and stole some fireworks! Then he lit the fireworks. He didn't know he was already breaking the law! Next, he heard the sound of a police car. But he didn't take it seriously. The policeman got out of the car behind him and said, "You are under arrest." He put a pair of handcuffs on Santa's hands. Santa was sent to the police station.

The next morning, Caishen found out that Santa was missing. He was very anxious. He turned on the TV immediately. He watched the news report and found out Santa had been under arrest. He gasped and hurried to the police station. When he arrived at the police station, he saw Santa sitting on a chair grumpling. Santa was delighted when he saw Caishen, "Can you pay for my penalty?" Caishen sighed and paid one thousand and five hundred dollars to the police. Santa felt relieved and regretful.

After that, they walked back to the hotel together. "Oh no! I used all the children's red packets to pay the penalty! I have no money now! How can I give the children red packets?" Caishen said sadly. "Sorry Caishen, but I have an idea. We can give out chocolate gold coins instead!" replied Santa. "What a great idea!" said Caishen grinning.

In the end, the children were overjoyed with the chocolate gold coins. Santa thanked Caishen for the unforgettable staycation!

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4C Leung Lok Lam

"The rest of the kids in Hong Kong didn't get any presents, so I'm going to give them out soon now." Santa Claus said. So Santa Claus flew to Hong Kong in his sleigh and he distributed presents from family to family. Although it was not Christmas, it was New Year, and he met the God of wealth on the way...

The Good of wealth asked Santa Claus, "Who are you and why have I never seen you?" Santa Claus said, "I am Santa Claus and I came here from the distant Santa Claus Village. This is my first time in Hong Kong to send gifts, so you haven't seen me!" The God of wealth said, "So that's the case, no wonder I've never seen you before, hello Santa Claus, I am the God of Wealth. Welcome to Hong Kong! You haven't delivered the gifts yet. Let me take you to visit Hong Kong." Santa Claus said, "There is still a gift that I have not delivered yet." After the old man delivered the last gift, the God of Wealth took him to visit Hong Kong. Santa Claus had a great time and reluctantly returned home when it got dark.

4C Cheung Wang Ho

Santa overslept in December. When he woke up, it was already January! He met the God of Wealth to get through Chinese New Year.

On the first day of the Chinese New Year, they visited the God of Wealth's home. Caishen's family ate a family reunion dinner. They had many Chinese foods. Santa tried Chinese food. He said, "It was so tasty."

On the second day of the Chinese New Year, they went to a temple to pray for the new year. Santa wanted to change the clothes. So Caishen gave his clothes to him. They wore the same clothes so they felt very funny.

On the third day of the Chinese New Year, he accidentally opened Santa's gift. Santa Claus was very angry with Caishen.

On the fourth day of the Chinese New Year, Caishen said sorry to Santa. Then, they continued to be good friends again.

When Santa wanted to go back to his country, he gave a gift to Caishen. When Caishen opened the gift, he saw a Christmas tree inside the box. It was the first time he saw a Christmas tree. He thought he could put the citrus fruit and the tree together.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4D Wo Nga Chung

Santa Claus overslept in December. When he woke up, it was already January. He wanted to buy some special gifts for children for the following Christmas. He decided to go to “Shopping Paradise” Hong Kong.

When Santa arrived in Hong Kong, he met the God of Wealth in the airport.

“Hello, Santa! I’m the God of Wealth, Caishen. Welcome to Hong Kong!” said the God of Wealth.

“Nice to meet you, Caishen! I want to prepare presents for children.” said Santa.

“You’re so smart. You can buy anything here.” praised the God of Wealth.

“Yes, it’s known as a “City of Malls”, said Santa.

“To do the honours, I want to go to Yum Cha and eat dim sum with you before you go shopping.” said the God of Wealth.

“It’s a perfect idea!” said Santa. Caishen led Santa to a restaurant and ordered many cuisines, such as shrimp dumplings, Siu Mai, steamed roasted pork bun etc. All the food was delicious and Santa was full.

“Caishen, thank you so much! It’s time to go now. What will you do then?” Santa said.

“I’ll start to give red packets to people.” replied Caishen.

“What’re red packets?” asked Santa. “We call red packets as Lai See. We regard them as lucky, wealth and health.” answered Caishen.

“So meaningful! Could I give Lai See with you?” asked Santa.

“Sure, but you need to dress up in this Caishen costume. Is it okay?” asked Caishen.

“No problem. It sounds interesting!” said Santa.

Then, Santa and Caishen were giving Lai See to people. They said “Gong Hei Fat Choi” to everyone. Although Santa had no reindeer, he enjoyed walking around. Santa was so happy to have such a memorable experience.

It was evening now. Caishen pointed to Victoria Harbour.

“Santa, you see,” said Caishen.

“Wow! What a wonderful night view!” exclaimed Santa.

“Let’s have dinner together. I recommend eating Roasted Peking Duck...” suggested Caishen.

Santa and Caishen gave Lai See, bought presents, and ate yummy food together for the following day. Santa was so lucky to meet this new friend, Caishen.

Santa Claus Met the God of Wealth

4D Cheung Hei Wang

It was a cold and snowy winter at the North Pole a few months ago. Then it was January and Santa Claus rode in on his reindeers high up in the sky, but what he could see wasn't Christmas trees, snow or people singing carols. Instead, he saw fireworks, red packets and lion dances.

Santa went to the Peak and met the God of Wealth. The God of Wealth asked, "Why are you at the Peak in January? You should go out in December." "Yes, I know. But I overslept in December. What can I do now?" The God of Wealth thought of a while and said "Well, you can come with me. I will help you give the gifts to the people around the world." said the God of Wealth.

At last, Santa and the God of Wealth gave all the gifts to the children in the world.

4D Ng Yat Yu

Santa overslept in December. When he woke up, it was already January!

Santa Claus met the God of Wealth. The God said "Kung Hey Fat Choi" to Santa Claus and gave him a red packet. Santa Claus said, "What happened? Why do you give me a red packet? What date is today?" "Today is 25th January, 2023. Do you remember?" Santa Claus shouted, "Oh no!" Many Christmas presents haven't been delivered. The God of Wealth told him that he could wait until the next Christmas. Then each person would have two gifts. Santa said, "That's a good idea!" But what can I do now?"

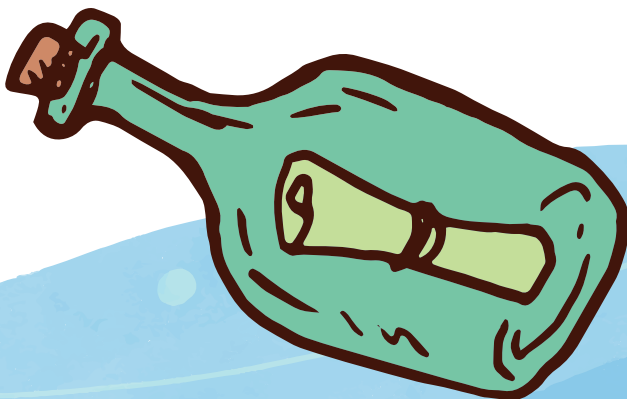

The God of Wealth said that it was Chinese New Year. He could help him give red packets and blessings to everyone. Santa Claus said, "Let's do it!"

4C Yu Ting Him

Everyone has grit. I couldn't hold my chopsticks and tie my shoelaces. I need my mum's help to do it, then she said. "When you get a little older, try to be a little independent so you can try and do those things that you couldn't do, okay?" I promised her that I would try to be a little more independent.

I could climb the stairs, comb my hair, pack my school bag, carry my school bag, do up my buttons and do up my zip. When I get a little older, I will try to do different things like cooking, turning on the microwave and maybe even doing the laundry for mum so she doesn't have to do the laundry anymore and I can take care of it.

I wanna be a police officer, fireman, doctor or an ice cream seller, so that I can pay for mum's surgery when she almost dies, and maybe even pay for dad's too, and even buy a new house for us to live in. When I do the jobs, I hope that I can be the leader of every single job that I have, but I know it's tough but I know that if you don't succeed to try again, and will keep doing it no matter what it takes.

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5A Cheung Nga Suet

Many people enjoy traveling around the world, and Hong Kong is a place that offers various cultures and lots of different fun things to do. My relatives, Uncle Joe and his family, have decided to come to Hong Kong from the UK, and I need to plan a 3-day trip for them.

On the first day, I plan to take them to The Peak in the morning because it is a famous tourist spot. We will ride The Peak Tram to reach The Peak Tower. I recommend visiting Madame Tussauds Hong Kong, where they can see many wax figures of superstars and take great photos. I also suggest going to Sky Terrace 428 to enjoy the fabulous panoramic views of Hong Kong. Since locals usually enjoy Chinese dishes like Dim Sum and Beijing Roasted Duck, we will have lunch at a Chinese restaurant in The Peak Tower. In the afternoon, I will take them to the Hong Kong Palace Museum because my uncle is interested in traditional Chinese culture. They can explore the museum's collection of precious treasures and remarkable drawings. In the evening, we will head to Harbor City at Tsim Sha Tsui as my aunt loves shopping, and Hong Kong is a shopping paradise. Afterward, we will have dinner at a harborside restaurant and watch A Symphony of Lights at eight o'clock. I also recommend visiting the Avenue of Stars, where we can see sculptures of famous people and enjoy the beautiful night view of Hong Kong.

On the second day, I plan to take them to Hong Kong Disneyland because my cousin loves amusement rides. We can enjoy the merry-go-round, roller coaster, pirate ship, and more. We can also have a delicious buffet there and watch the fireworks in the evening.

On the third day, I will bring them to Hong Kong Wetland Park as my aunt is a nature enthusiast. We can observe Great Egrets, crabs, mudskippers, birds, and more in their natural habitat. In the evening, we will go to Lau Fau Shan to savor the delicious seafood and watch the sunset.

I believe summer is the best time to visit Hong Kong as they can enjoy the sunshine. I remind them to bring a nice camera and enough money as there are plenty of things to buy here!

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5A Tan Yan Tung

Hong Kong is a well-known place for anyone to enjoy the many different things to do and have fun. Let's plan a 3-day trip for my beloved and precious friends to experience Hong Kong.

For day 1, Hong Kong Disneyland is the most suitable option. When we walk into this magical and colorful world, we can buy some cute hairbands, cartoon characters like Lina Bell, Minnie Mouse or Anna, just to name a few. There are more than a hundred to choose from, so we can find our favorite one. Also, we can purchase countless Disney's fluffy dolls. If we are hungry, we can get some hot food and cold drinks to fill up our tummies. We cannot miss out on the exciting roller coasters. We can scream as loud as we want. At around 8:30 p.m., we can view the fantastic firework display right in front of the pretty castle. For day 1, we may feel exhausted; however, we will have so much fun and joy.

For day 2, we need a relaxing day so we will go to the traditional restaurant to "Yum cha". People always go there with their families or friends to share dumplings and dim sum. I like sitting at the round table; therefore, I can talk to everyone easily. I think my friends will love it too.

After "Yum cha", shopping is a perfect activity to do. Not only can we do some shopping, but we can also burn some fat. Sha Tin is a shopping paradise. We can find some new products in Log-On, a Japanese shop. It will be a rather free day.

After a full day of relaxation, here comes the famous Ocean Park. There are many sea creatures to visit, such as jellyfish, sharks, and stingrays. Land animals are also popular. Let's go visit the koalas and red pandas. Exciting! We must also watch the dolphins' show. The dolphins are clever and can do tricky tricks. How amazing!

I hope my friends can come here during Autumn. It will not be cold or hot, but don't forget to bring water, a camera, and a hat. I am looking forward to seeing my friends during Autumn.

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5B Leung Ka Chun

Hong Kong is a splendid place for tourism. In the following paragraphs, I will plan a 3-day trip for families living in foreign countries, suitable for both children, adults, and even the elderly. I will take them to Victoria Harbour, Tian Tan Buddha, and Fung Yuen Butterfly Reserve.

First of all, on the first day, we will visit Victoria Harbour. Tourists will be able to witness the magnificent skyline of Hong Kong and enjoy the breathtaking sea view under the clear, sapphire-blue sky. In the evening, I highly recommend admiring the spectacular night view of Hong Kong, with its prominent skyscrapers and colorful neon lights that illuminate the city like a rainbow. For dinner, we will go to a Chinese restaurant, where we can savor a variety of delicious dishes such as siu long bao (tiny steamed buns with meat and soup inside), Peking duck, and steamed fish. The steamed fish is a special delicacy, served whole with ginger and spring onions, complemented by a drizzle of soy sauce.

On the next day, we will visit Tian Tan Buddha, a breathtaking statue that represents our traditional religion. There are also numerous temples where tourists can pray for good fortune and make wishes. We will then proceed to Ngong Ping 360 to experience a cable car ride. During the Ngong Ping 360 ride, we will enjoy a panoramic view of Hong Kong from the sky. After sightseeing, we will enjoy a Chinese-style vegetarian meal, featuring dishes such as stir-fried vegetables and mock meat. Vegetarian goose and vegetarian abalone will also be served.

On the last day of our 3-day trip, we will visit Tai Po Fung Yuen Butterfly Reserve. This nature reserve allows us to experience Hong Kong's natural habitat and witness its diverse ecology. It is a paradise for animal and nature lovers, housing unique butterfly species found exclusively in Hong Kong. Lastly, we will visit a nearby Cha Chaa Teng, where we can sample Hong Kong's fusion of Western and Chinese cultures. We will indulge in egg tarts, Hong Kong-style milk tea, lemon tea, yuen yeung (a mix of coffee and tea), and pineapple buns. Hong Kong is truly a dynamic city, and this trip is undoubtedly worth experiencing!

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5B Tong Xin

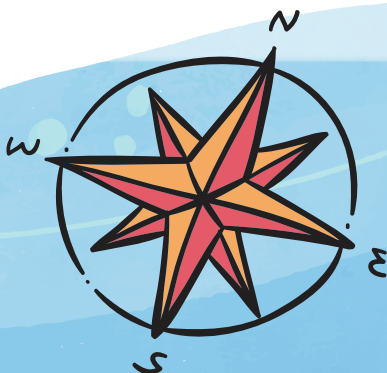

Yoyo, my friend, is coming to Hong Kong for three days, and I would like to design a plan for her.

On the first day, I will take her to try the local refreshment specialties in Hong Kong, such as pineapple buns with butter or curry fish balls. Then, we will visit Ocean Park, where we can enjoy thrilling rides and watch dolphin shows.

On the second day, I will accompany Yoyo to Hong Kong Disneyland. Disneyland is loved by both adults and children alike. We will have the opportunity to meet Disneyland's beloved cartoon characters and explore more than 100 recreational facilities and entertainment experiences. We can also admire the new "Wonderful Dream Castle" and indulge in the various shops and restaurants within the resort.

On the last day, we will head to Central to experience a ride on the iconic Hong Kong tram. The Hong Kong tram is a streetcar system that carries an average of 180,000 passengers every day. It is the world's only tram system to use double-decker trams and offers the largest fleet of double-decker trams in service. Additionally, we will visit Victoria Harbour, a renowned seaport located in Hong Kong. With its vast breadth and depth, Victoria Harbour is often referred to as the "Pearl of the East." It has played a significant role in shaping Hong Kong's history, culture, and economic development. Victoria Harbour stands as a symbol of Hong Kong's status as an international metropolis.

I hope Yoyo will have a memorable time exploring these attractions and experiencing the vibrant spirit of Hong Kong!

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5C Wong Pak Hei

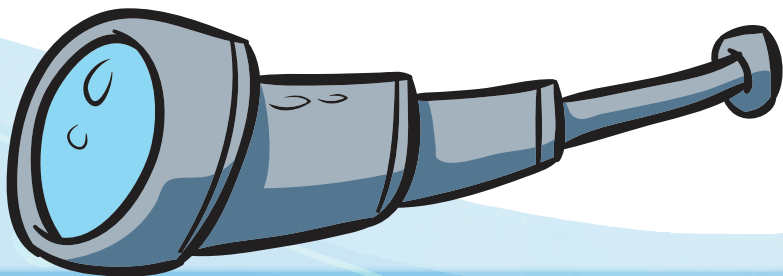

This coming Sunday, my friend Ashton will be arriving in Hong Kong from the UK. I have planned a 3-day trip for him.

On the first day, Ashton and I will head to Victoria Peak in the morning, using the peak tram. From there, we can admire the breathtaking view of Victoria Harbour. In the afternoon, we can enjoy lunch at the Peak Tower. Afterwards, we can take a leisurely stroll along the Tsim Sha Tsui Promenade and visit the Avenue of the Stars. This will give us the opportunity to take photos with the film-related sculptures and enjoy the magnificent skyline, considered one of the best in the world.

On the second day, I propose taking him to Hong Kong Disneyland. We can engage in various activities such as meeting Disney characters, going on thrilling rides, and experiencing the Jungle River Cruise. The Jungle River Boats will provide us with an exciting encounter with wild animals and a simulated volcano. To conclude the day, we can marvel at the captivating fireworks display.

On the last day, I plan to take Ashton to Mong Kok. This vibrant district offers a wide array of street food options for us to sample, including curry fish balls, siu mai, stinky tofu, and more. Additionally, we can explore the various street markets. As a souvenir for his family, I will suggest Ashton buy some traditional food from Wing Wah Cake Shop. This will allow them to experience our culture through their taste buds.

I sincerely hope that Ashton will enjoy the 3-day trip to Hong Kong as per my plan.

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5C Cheung Cho Sing

On Day 1, I will take my cousin to Ocean Park. We will ride the roller coaster, watch the pandas and dolphins. In the evening, we will head to Sha Tin for a buffet dinner.

On Day 2, we will go ice skating together and then watch a film in Kowloon Tong. Afterward, we will visit a beach in Tai Mei Tuk for swimming. As night falls, we will have a barbecue on the beach.

On Day 3, our first stop will be Morton Wheel in Central, where we can play carnival games and have fun. Then, we will head to Tai Po Waterfront Park to fly kites. As the day progresses, we will go fishing for octopus in Sai Kung. We can rent a boat and enjoy the experience. I am particularly excited about having octopus with my cousin, as it is incredibly delicious.

I hope my cousin enjoys this trip.

5D Pang Yui Long

This 3-day trip is designed for my mom's friend, the Logans' family. Since Logan has moved to Australia, we haven't seen each other for more than two years. We took them there to see the changes in Hong Kong. First, we took them to eat cart noodles.

They provided curry fish balls, put chai go, and siu mai. These are local foods and the most popular dishes in Hong Kong.

Visiting Hong Kong during the summer holidays might be a good choice because you can choose from two activities. Going swimming in the summer in Hong Kong is great as the temperature ranges from 30 to 36 degrees Celsius. In autumn, you can go hiking when it's neither hot nor cold. If the day is sunny, I recommend going to the Peak at night and enjoying the famous night view of Victoria Harbour.

If you visit Hong Kong during the mentioned time and engage in these activities, I highly recommend bringing mosquito spray. The weather is wet and warm in summer, which mosquitoes love. There are a lot of mosquitoes. Don't forget to bring cold water too. It's super hot and easy to overheat.

I hope this information is useful! I hope to see you in Hong Kong!

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5D Ho Lok Tung

Hong Kong was once the best tourist city in Asia before the COVID era. Since people started traveling around the world again in 2023, I have designed a family-friendly 3-day trip for people from other places to get to know Hong Kong.

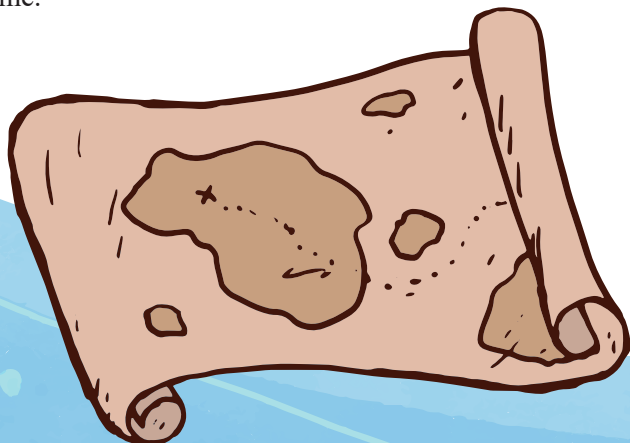

On the first day, I will take them to the Peak. We will ride the Peak Tram and admire the view. I will treat them to yum cha for lunch. Afterward, we will take a short hike on the Peak to enjoy the scenery of Victoria Harbour. At night, we will visit the Temple Street Night Market and have dinner at a local hot pot restaurant.

On the second day, I will take them to Disneyland for a relaxing and magical day. In the evening, we will take a ride on the Star Ferry and visit the Avenue of Stars in Tsim Sha Tsui.

On the third day, we will visit Lantau Island by taking the Ngong Ping 360 cable car. We can enjoy the beautiful scenery during this 20-minute ride. Then, we will visit the Tian Tan Big Buddha and have a vegetarian lunch there. In the afternoon, those who enjoy shopping can visit Citygate Shopping Mall.

I believe December to May is the best time to visit Hong Kong because during the summertime, it is too hot and humid due to global warming.

People should pack casual clothes when traveling to Hong Kong because the best way to learn the local culture is to blend in, and people in Hong Kong dress casually most of the time.

Planning a 3-Day Trip to Hong Kong

5D Hui Tin Long

Uncle John is coming to Hong Kong with Aunt Joyce for Chinese New Year. They have been living in Thailand for over twenty years.

Since Uncle John and Aunt Joyce haven't celebrated Chinese New Year for many years, I have decided to take them to Lam Tsuen. We can visit the flower market and watch the lion dance. Uncle John and Aunt Joyce can also make wishes in front of the wishing tree. At night, we can eat Poon Choi at my home. Poon Choi is a traditional festival meal served in a basin with layers of different ingredients. I think they will like it.

On the second day, I will take them to Tai Mei Tuk as Uncle John lived there when he was a child. I think he would enjoy revisiting the place. First, I will take them to Tsz Shan Monastery. The view there is graceful, and the air is fresh. We can take a closer look at the Guan Yin statue. Then we will have a barbecue at the nearby barbecue site.

On the last day, we will go to Disneyland because Aunt Joyce is a big fan of Mickey Mouse. She can take photos with her favorite cartoon characters. Besides, we can watch the parade, which will be amazing. We can also enjoy exciting rides. At night, we can watch the fireworks show in front of the castle, which will be fascinating. Before leaving the park, Aunt Joyce can buy some souvenirs.

I hope Uncle John and Aunt Joyce will enjoy the trip.

My Kite

5A Chan Yu Sum Hana

Yesterday, I went to Tai Po Waterfront Park to fly kites. When I arrived, my eyes were filled with the vibrant colors of various kites, resembling rainbow birds. I took out my favorite kite from my backpack. It was the one I cherished the most. With a strong wind blowing, I was confident that my kite would soar into the sky. However, to my disappointment, my kite remained grounded like a snail, unable to take flight.

I made another attempt, but my kite still refused to fly. Observing other children's kites soaring high while mine remained on the grass, I felt a sense of despair.

Just as I was about to give up, a kind stranger picked up my kite and asked, "Hey! Is your kite having trouble flying?" I looked up and saw a little girl whom I had never met before. She reassured me, saying, "It's okay if it's not flying. Let's figure out what the problem is!" Her words brought me comfort.

Finally, I discovered the issue with my kite—a hole. The little girl generously gifted me a new kite, and this time, my kite finally took flight!

In the end, we became friends, and I learned the valuable lesson of perseverance. I realized that I should always be willing to try multiple times and never give up on anything.

What an eventful and memorable day it was!

5C Ip Yan Man

One Saturday afternoon, I headed to Tai Po Waterfront Park because it was quite windy. Many people were present, including children, adults, and even a large number of elderly individuals. Some sat on the grass while others purchased snacks. Since the wind was strong, I brought my kite along. Wearing my jacket, I began flying my kite. "My kite was unique compared to the others. It was grey and had no distinct shape. Unfortunately, it refused to take flight. I made countless attempts, and before I realized, night had fallen.

The wind grew stronger as more people left the park. Looking at my kite against the night sky, a feeling of déjà vu washed over me. I blinked and discovered I was alone. Glancing at my watch as I walked home, it read 12:48 am. The streets were empty, resembling the vastness of space. After gazing at the sky, I turned my attention back to my kite. I made the decision to release it into the dimly lit sky. As I let go, it slowly ascended, defying the absence of wind..."

On a beautiful summer morning, the cloudless blue sky brought me great pleasure as I flew my kite alongside my friend, Jessica.

When we arrived at the nearby beach, the sky was filled with various kinds and colors of flying kites. There were yellow Minions munching on delicious bananas, green scary aliens, legendary glittering UFOs, black vicious pirates, cute blue dolphins, sailing boats in rainbow colors, titanium silver smart robots, pearl-white recyclable Space X kites, purple and light blue fairies, and much more. They danced in the wind, creating a mesmerizing sight. And, of course, I couldn't forget about my brilliant kite. It portrayed a brave astronaut, reflecting the sunlight. Wow, it truly looked like a fantasy kite paradise!

While Jessica assisted me in flying my astronaut kite, a strong gust of wind suddenly swept over us. I quickly released the string, but something felt amiss. "What's happening? Why isn't my kite soaring up to the sky to join its friends?" I cried out in dismay to Jessica. She nodded and meticulously examined the strings, resembling a detective searching for clues. Shortly after, Jessica grinned and said, "It seems someone is playing a trick on you once again!" "Oh no! The mischievous goblins and that cheeky Rachel?" I groaned. I looked up and noticed Rachel smirking with the goblins. When Rachel noticed my gaze upon her, she squealed in fright and swiftly took off. However, Jessica was too quick for Rachel and effortlessly caught her. Together, we transformed into fairies and took Rachel back to Fairyland.

Upon arriving in Fairyland, the fairy Queen Titania and King Oberon warmly greeted us. "What seems to be the problem, girls?" they asked. We both bowed deeply and answered, "Your Majesties, it's Rachel the elf causing trouble again. This time, she cut the strings of my kite to ensure it wouldn't fly."

"Do not worry, Katie the kite Fairy will repair your kite," Queen Titania soothed. King Oberon turned to Rachel and said sternly, "This is highly irresponsible behavior for a fairy." "If you do this again, you will be banished from here." Rachel approached us and said, "I'm very sorry. I won't do it anymore. May I be your friend?" "Of course, Rachel!" Jessica and I joyfully replied. At that moment, all of us shared a hearty smile.

Afterward, we returned to the human world and found my astronaut kite as good as new. Now, it could freely join its big family in the sky once again. I hope that one day it can explore Mars with Jessica and me. Many thanks to the Fairy King and Queen, as well as my fairy friends!

"Wake up, sleepyhead!" Jessica's sweet voice penetrated my dream. I opened my eyes and realized it was just an incredible dream. Oh my goodness! I suddenly remembered that I had a kite-flying date with Jessica at the beach this morning. On our way to the beach, I recounted the magical adventure of Kite Paradise that I had dreamed about during the night. "What an enchanting adventure!" Both of us exclaimed in unison after I finished sharing the entire dream with a wide smile.

A Fantasy Kingdom

Exploring the Underworld Kingdom

6A Wong Chin Yu

Sluggishly, she made her way down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though; she'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books.

The creature looked like a cross between a dolphin and an octopus, except with two large tentacles instead of eight arms. It had no visible eyes or nose. Instead it swam just under the water's surface using its huge tentacles to feel around for food. The animal passed right by her without so much as a glance in her direction.

Muriel felt a little bad about spying on such an interesting beast but decided not to tell anyone. After all, if she didn't know about this place then maybe no one else would either. If word got out, there might be humans who would try to steal it away from the underwater denizens.

She spent most of the evening reading through what she could find on the internet about the creature. There weren't very many websites talking about it, but everything that was available seemed to state the kingdom underwater truly existed. It wasn't just a myth, but an actual place where otherworldly creatures lived.

That night when she went to bed, she dreamt of swimming along the ocean floor, searching for treasure, and having a glimpse of some humanoid creatures. She knew that it was only a dream, yet she still felt compelled to find something special.

The day dawned crisp and clear. When she woke up, she dumped out all her books and homework, and replaced it with a diving suit and goggles. She made sure to hide the evidence, and snuck out her room window, only to get her bicycle and go back to the beach.

She parked her bike near the edge of the lake, and began swimming towards the center where she thought the kingdom may lay. On her journey, she came across several different species of fish, but none were like the ones she had seen before. As she continued deeper, she started to notice that the water became more clear. She also noticed that the temperature was getting warmer.

"Strange," Muriel thought to herself.

Suddenly, she heard a weird noise. It sounded like someone was singing underwater, or at least something similar. Curious, she followed the sound and found a small cave in the middle of the ocean. When she entered it, she saw a girl floating in front of her.

The girl's hair floated around her head like seaweed while she sang an eerie song that made her fall into a trance. When the girl finished her song, she pointed in an odd direction, and the water around her began to shimmer as if it were glowing. After a few seconds, the glow faded away and the girl disappeared.

Muriel was shocked. It didn't make any sense. She'd never seen such a creature before in her life, but for some reason she knew that this was it. This was the place where she would discover more about the underworld kingdom. For the rest of the day, Muriel continued her search, determined to find out all about this place.

A Fantasy Kingdom

After a while, the waters surrounding her became darker. In the distance, she spotted something that looked like a small island floating in the distance. "This must be the place that weird ghost girl was pointing to, I know it!"

Muriel decided to swim towards it, hoping that it would lead her to more clues about the kingdom's location, as well as giving her a place to take a break. As she swam, she began to see a glow across the water, coming from the surface. As she swam closer, she realized that the water was reflecting an island that she had never seen before.

It was more of a plate of rock that rested in the middle of the ocean. Muriel thought it was some part of the kingdom but decided to check it out anyway. As she approached, she began to hear strange noises coming from the island. The noises sounded like the scuttling of things from below, or the voices of people.

Muriel was scared. She turned around and swam towards the surface, worried that she had somehow swum over to the underwater kingdom. Once she reached the surface, she noticed a slight hue in the water around her. It was slightly lighter, and smelled a little weird.

It reminded her of a bar of soap, something she'd never smelled before. Just as Muriel started to panic, something grabbed her by the arm and pulled her into the water. Screaming and screaming, Muriel felt something biting into her skin as she struggled to pull away. She was scared and worried that she would never find the kingdom.

Suddenly, she heard a strange noise behind her. It was a deep hum that sounded like breathing, but at the same time it felt like it was coming from everywhere around her. She felt something pushing against her, but couldn't see anything in front of her.

When the sound was close enough to Muriel's ear, it was clear that it was coming from the cave in the center of the ocean.

"It's you." The voice murmured right into her ear, giving her chills.

"This sounds oddly familiar, the voice, the accent. Am I experiencing déjà vu? No I'm definitely not, this is the eerie singing girl. Defo." Muriel pondered.

With the voice came a pair of hands that gently took hold of her shoulders. With a soft touch, the creature lifted Muriel up and placed her on the ground. Muriel gasped and tried to scream, but no words would come out.

"Don't worry," the creature said. "You are safe now."

The creature looked like a sea nymph, it was probably the same creature that Muriel had seen in her dream. Though, this one was much smaller. She had a beautiful face with long flowing hair.

The creature's dark blue eyes glimmered in the dim light. Her lips were full and red. Even her ears were pointed, just like those of a feline. She smiled and gave a wave.

"I am called Nereida." Her voice echoed.

Muriel shook her head, trying to regain her composure. "I'm sorry. I don't understand. Where is.. here?" She asked, eager to know. Nereida giggled. "Oh, I have been waiting for you to wake up."

"Wait... What? What do you mean? How did you know that I was going to be.. here?"

"My dear, you are the one I've been looking for. You're a Chosen One. I've been waiting for you since the night you dreamt of me." Nereida gave a welcoming smile.

A Fantasy Kingdom

The Key

6A Wong Chin Ching

Sluggishly, she made her way down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though; she'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books. There were creatures living there in the castle who could manipulate water! That must be what they used to create the elegant underwater-waterfall. Thalassa promised herself then and there that after a good night's rest, she would find out more about this wondrous place and how it all worked.

The sun shone brightly through the windows as she tiptoed over to her room on the second floor, careful not to make a sound to wake someone up. Her parents would surely notice if she woke them up early like this, so she made sure to sneak quietly into her room. She laid out her diving clothes, which consisted of a pink one-piece and a snorkel, and carefully stuffed her school bag under her bed, to make it seem like she actually went to school. She then grabbed herself a slice of toast and got ready for the day ahead.

After eating breakfast, she slipped on her shoes and crept outside without waking anyone up. As soon as the door shut behind her, she ran off towards the beach, where she was going to spend the entire morning exploring at the bottom of the ocean until it started getting too cold to stay. She was determined to find the underwater kingdom.

She recalled everything that happened yesterday which led her to the mysterious kingdom. The fish in the water had shown her the way. They had been swimming with her, guiding her through the underwater tunnels and caves. The deeper she went, the more comfortable Thalassa felt. Just then, she heard footsteps coming from beneath her.

"Are you okay?!" Thalassa spun around to see who it was that called out to her, but no one was there. Before she knew it, something wrapped its arms around her shoulder.

"Hello, my dear!" It said, "I've missed you."

Thalassa's eyes widened in surprise. It looked exactly like one of the water manipulating fish people that she'd seen only yesterday. It had long blue hair which flowed down to the ground, and twinkling green emerald eyes. Its body was covered with a light-blue gown that reached its knees, it wore a white crown on its head, with a blue ribbon tied around the base of the crown. It also held a silver staff in its hands, a small crystal on top, glinting. Its skin was an almost translucent shade of blue, making Thalassa feel as though she could see right through it.

"Hello," Thalassa replied, trying not to show how excited she was at meeting another water creature. Thalassa watched in amazement at how this strange creature was able to move and manipulate water with such ease.

"You are?" Thalassa asked.

"I am Asitrisse, a water nymph." The creature replied.

"I'm the guardian of the secret kingdom beneath the ocean."

A Fantasy Kingdom

Asitrise explains to Thalassa that she can control and manipulate water to make it do anything she pleases. She can cause tidal waves, move ships with great force, condition seas for fishing boats, or even calm down raging stormy seas. Enchanted by Asitrise's ability and captivated by her beauty, Thalassa is determined to explore further down this path.

In a flash, a vicious creature emerges from underneath the palace.

'Leave me here and save yourself, Thalassa,' Asitrise begs her to let her go, and promises to meet her again once she defeats the monster. However, Thalassa refuses to leave her best friend behind.

"Please! Don't you understand how much it would hurt to see you go?"

"Get out here! Now!" Asitrise pushes Thalassa away as she plunges into the depths of the ocean, heading towards the dangerous waters of the underwater kingdom.

After what feels like hours, Thalassa finally sees a faint light off in the distance. The closer she gets, the more it grows bigger until she finally catches sight of the surface. As she breaks through the water, she sees Asitrise covered in glowing blue liquid, struggling against something unknown.

"Asitrise!" Thalassa shouts, swimming faster than ever before.

"Asitrise?" Thalassa calls out again.

"Its-" Thalassa looks down at her hands to see the mysterious liquid she was sitting in.

"Blood!?" Thalassa gasps.

"She's dead!" Thalassa's heart sank.

Thalassa tries to calm herself, to not use all the air in the air tank. She glanced over as Astrise lay lifelessly on the ground.

"Asitrise... Why did you protect me? We were bonding so perfectly, and now you're gone..." Tears welled up in Thalassa's eyes as she continued trying not to sob.

"I will fight for the love that we shared. I promise, Thalassa. I swear!" Thalassa took a deep breath. She nodded to herself, trying to gather the strength needed to save Asitrise. She pushed herself deeper into the depths of the sea.

Eventually, Thalassa emerged from the dark depths of the ocean, soaked wet and exhausted. It felt like it was late already, and she couldn't believe how much time had passed since she first dove into the depths.

"I'm sorry. Asitrise. I came so far just to save you, but I failed," Thalassa cried.

She went back on land and took off her scuba mask. Her vision cleared instantly, and she was able to breathe normally. When she looked up, she saw something iridescent underwater. She put her scuba mask back on, determined to save her friend.

Thalassa swam as fast as she could, and finally reached a hidden abandoned chamber underground. She floated through the tunnel, and when she emerged, she found herself in an eerie place, full of potions and all kinds of witchcraft.

"Regeneration potion." It read.

She found one of the most powerful healing potions. She put some on her paper cut just to make sure it was legit.

"Regeneration potion"

"Could it be the key to bringing Asitrise back?"

A Fantasy Kingdom

Underwater Subtleness

6A Lam Tsz Fung

Sluggishly, she made her way down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though; she'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books.

Before the swim began, Alexa had been through quite a lot. As she was curious. Her friend Mark, who is a friend of mine, told us, "If one of you is daring enough to swim underwater then take these kits as you are going to need it because it's highly precarious out there!" Alexa gladly replied, "I am in for any challenges at any time! No matter how arduous or as counterintuitive as it seems. I'm always ready for a challenge!" With her self-assured thoughts in her head. She was all readied-up. Little did she know that this was going to be some onerous swimming that will always be indelible to her.

During the swim, she saw some very gracious and abstruse things that felt like it would have come from somewhere like paradise. It was some coral reef! It was alluring. Meanwhile, there was a miraculous kingdom down below her. Out of curiosity, she decided to check it out. She saw an Atlantis soldier guarding the front. She approached him. Immediately, the soldier pointed his gun at her. "Don't walk any closer, human!" With his aggression, she asked delicately, "I'm friendly! Please don't fire that lethal weapon at me!" The soldier said, "I'll let you in, but if you cause any trouble or commotion, I'll make sure you never come back again!" In the kingdom, Alexa wandered and prowled around. In the meantime, she was mesmerized by the resplendent nature of the whimsical Atlantis residents. During that time, she made some friends. Then, she said farewell to them. When she was swimming back to home, A ginormous shark was pursuing her from a long distance, hungry for some flesh. At that point, the shark was going increasingly fast like the flash. Alexa was petrified as if she was forced into a needle pit. Surrounded with despair, she felt hopeless. All her aspirations and dreams had led to this. An endeavour that successfully defeated her.

All of a sudden, a submarine fired a missile at the shark which sent it so far back. The shark was certainly not going to come back anytime soon. To Alexa's surprise, the saviors were the Atlantis Kingdom. Alexa was flabbergasted. That sullen thought in her head had vanished.

As an appreciation, Alexa said, "I'm very grateful for what you guys have done. Coming in like a superhero and rescuing me. It takes a lot for somebody to do that. Anyways, I hope all of you will have the best future because you all deserve it."

In the end, a weary and distressed Alexa finally made her way back home and confidently said, "I've finished your strenuous challenge Mark!"

A Fantasy Kingdom

The Merries

6B Tsang Chi Ching

There was a girl, a normal girl who lived with her grandma. The two of them lived in a hut in a farm, where the girl's uncle, Ton, kindly gave them the place to live. But time doesn't stop and wait, time ticks and passes and runs, and after years, it was just the girl. She still lived in the hut, but without her grandma. Her uncle was busy and heartless. That girl, Layla, was trapped in the darkness forever. Till one morning, there came a loud bang on the hut's door and in came a well-built man. His eyes squeezed tight together and looked into Layla's soul. Layla had a strangely familiar feeling. The man said, "Glad to see you, my daughter," Layla gasped, this man right here was her father, her real birth-father.

"Now, you live with me, you obey me. Did I make it clear?," the man said. Layla stared and said nothing. "Com'n now, chop chop," urged the man. "You're going swimming, diving a bit as well," he urged again. Layla followed the man, her stomach doing a somersault.

Sluggishly, she made her way down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though. She'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books. The creature was like a penguin, but with glowing wings under the sea. It had a gigantic seashell which looked like a horn held under its wings. Layla knew that her father would destroy the kingdom for wealth, so she didn't tell him about her discovery. Instead, she swam back to take a better look.

The creature was still there, swimming in front of the gate. Layla dived gently towards the creature and it spotted her. It blew its shell nervously and swan around madly. The gate opened and there came a human, half human and half fish. She was a mermaid, with wings again. She invited Layla inside. "You can take off your mask now, if you want," the mermaid whispered in a sweet tone, "You can breathe in here." The whole place was strange, Layla looked around. "We are Merries, little girl, mermaids with wings. Our ancestors were humans, but they were tired of wars so they ended up here," explained the Merry, "By the way, I'm Flora, what's your name?" "Layla." "Pleasure, Layla, but unfortunately, you can't stay for long. Though you can visit us, here, take the shell, when you need someone to talk to, blow it. Now go, and I beg you not to tell a word about us. We keep it a secret." reminded Flora, as she waved farewell to Layla.

Time flew back to an old-aged Layla, sitting by the fireside, reading this story to her grandchildren. Is it real? Well, no one but only Layla knows, what I know, Flora never forgot her.

A Fantasy Kingdom

An Adventure of a Kingdom

6B Lee Sze Wing

One night, I decided to read a novel before sleep, so I randomly picked a book and read its introduction. Sluggishly, Dorothy walked down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though; she'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books. "I thought it was interesting so I opened the book. It became a fancy hole and swallowed me. I fell into a dark area..."

When I saw the light again, I saw a girl walking out from the swimming centre. She said in a low voice, "Ah... How can it be that exhausting! I wanna play with my besties! They can play and go shopping all the time! Life is so hard!"

I heard that and I walked in front of her. Wait, she couldn't see me? She walked "over" me and it seemed she didn't notice or couldn't see me! So...I became invisible?

I had nowhere to stay so I followed her to her home. Woah! It was amazing! So huge! I fell in love with this wonderful living environment!

"Dorothy? If you're okay. I suggest you take a shower. Not a bath!" A mature woman's voice sounded. So the girl was Dorothy, the heroine...

I had nothing to do so I stayed in a room and fell asleep. At midnight, someone called me. She was Dorothy. She said, "Hello! Who are you? Why are you here? You're new here?" I was frightened so I told her everything.

She noticed and told me, "So go with me? I found mysterious stairs! Let's go there!" She held my hand and ran to the swimming centre, she said to the guard, "This's my monthly ticket." And she got in with me and I had just turned invisible again.

When we were beside the pool, I was back. We walked near the pool and jumped in. Dorothy said, "There's the stairs! I discovered that when I was swimming today."

We finally got to the stairs. We made our way down the stairs sluggishly, the stairs were so long! We walked down for a long time and caught a glimpse of a hidden kingdom below! We quickened the pace and arrived, the kingdom was in all white and it was so grand!

We entered and saw there weren't any humans, but a lot of cute aliens which had cat ears and tails on human-like bodies, how adorable! But we've never read it from any books.

A Fantasy Kingdom

Suddenly, one of them came and introduced itself, “You must be new here! I'm Celeste, a werecat! Welcome to Fantasy Land, a kingdom of werecats! Let me show you around. Let's start this journey!”

Celeste was very active and she introduced many friends to us, they were so friendly and kind!

She took us to different attractions, even a walk in the Kingdom! We saw a lot of beautiful views, ate a lot of great food, and also enjoyed the whole day.

The sky became darker, Celeste gave us two lenses and said, “It's nighttime! You should go home! We will see each other soon!” Then, I was in the dark again.

When I was awake, I was back in my room and it was midnight. I put on the lens and saw a girl and a werecat. Yes, they were Dorothy and Celeste...

The Chocolate Kingdom

6D Wong Ka Hei

Sluggishly, she made her way down the stairs. All that swimming yesterday had left her exhausted. It was worth it though. She'd finally caught a glimpse of the hidden kingdom below. She even spotted a creature that she had never read from any books.

It was a chocolate kingdom. I saw a billboard which said, “the Chocolate Kingdom is all chocolate.” I discovered that a building was made of chocolate. I grabbed a piece of chocolate from the building and ate it. The chocolate was very big and so sweet.

Suddenly, a man with a chocolate T-shirt came to me and said, “Why do you eat my house?” I was so scared and said, “Sorry, I didn't know it was your house.”

He said, “Nevermind. Are you new to our kingdom? Let me take you around the kingdom.” Then, we travelled around the kingdom and saw that all cars were made of chocolate and used chocolate as their fuel. When I was shocked about it, suddenly a car crashed into me. Eventually, I woke up and realized it was just a dream.

The Greatest invention

6B Chan Yin Tung

I am a scientist that can invent machines? Wow! That is amazing! Let me think, I'll invent a great machine - The Time Machine.

I'm designing it for all citizens. They all want to know how their future is. Therefore, I'd like to show them the machine and they will know what would happen if they keep destroying the environment.

They will see that the environment is terrible. The water is turbid. Garbage surrounds them. Humans can smell factory scents everywhere. We can also feel the sweltering weather caused by global warming. I hope they will totally change after seeing that. All because humans are way more cruel than we can imagine. Throwing rubbish, wasting essentials and resources, dealing with conflicts such as economic interest using military force etc.

Our world will become worse in the future if humans don't change. I invented this machine just because I want to show this situation to all humans in the world. Why don't we just put our selfishness aside and protect our magnificent Earth?

Next, I'd like to let humans try to go back to the past. They may have done something wrong or they may miss somebody. They couldn't fix their pity, but if they look back again, maybe this can teach them a lesson.

I hope this machine can help humans change.

The Greatest invention

6C Wong Ming Lai

Just think, a time machine can do a lot of stuff for you. It can bring back dead loved ones. And it could let you experience the past or the future.

If you time traveled to the past, you can learn a lot of history. Which means free history lessons. Like when wars were, how were things invented and a lot more. You might even be able to even meet inventors themselves. You can even learn the lifestyle of the people in the past.

If you time travel to the future, you can see a lot of new stuff that nowadays you don't have. Like flying cars, automatic teleporters, levitating buildings, AI builders, laser jetpacks and a lot more can happen in the future. There might even be zero danger in the future. Just think, if the future had massive or gigantic technology protections, even meteors can't destroy earth. Just imagine, a world with no danger, how good could it be?

Time machines might even let you experience some unforgettable experiences with loved ones who have passed away. For example, you had an amazing fishing trip with your dad, but he recently died in a fire right in front of your eyes as you watch the incident in disbelief. But with a time machine, you can experience the fishing trip over and over again.

A time machine can save you in a crime scene. For example, if a criminal is chasing you, you can get out of it just by stepping into the time machine. A time machine can save you from millions of dangers. Like a fire, a flood, an earthquake, an atomic bomb, natural disasters and a bunch more.

A world with and without a time machine can make millions of differences. You can't do any of those things without a time machine. But with one, it can let you escape from situations, danger, rewind unforgettable experiences and a lot more.

The Greatest invention

6C Tuen Shiyu Daniel

My most useful and the greatest invention is a travel machine. It's a huge metal machine with two steel doors. One at the front and the other is at the back. When you want to travel around the world, go to school, go shopping or go working, you just go in the travel machine and enter the destination, then wait for twenty seconds.

You could open another door when you hear the signal from the machine. Then you could go anywhere conveniently in a short period of time.

This machine is so important as it can make our lives convenient. Parents don't need to take their children to school. Student's and adults can go to school or work faster. We can also travel to other countries easily. We could save a lot of time and money with this fantastic invention.

6C Li Sze Ching

If I am a scientist, I would like to invent a time machine. It is for inquiring scientists to explore history. The time machine allows people to go back in time, but there is a time limit. If you haven't come back within the time limit you will be trapped in that time and space and you will never come back.

I think this machine can make our people's technology more advanced. So I think it is important. It can allow scientists who go back to the past to explore history that cannot be found now and they may also discover things that are different from the current records.

The Greatest invention

6D Ho Wai Ki

There is a great invention in the 21st century – the telephone watch. Although the mobile phone is expensive, it is not a phone that children can use. The watch is the housekeeper for children.

If the child is lost, you can use the most advanced tracking function in the country to find the child within a certain period of time. So far, more than 10,000 telephone watches have been sold in my country. Some children have no energy in class because they go to bed too late. There is a function in the telephone watch to deal with this and it's called time planning.

The two above are just some of the features, and there are many other functions, such as being good friends with other people's watches, counting how many steps you have taken today. With this super telephone watch, you can take pictures. The camera is generally invisible as long as you pull up the cover at the back, you can see it.

6D Mui Wing Sze

I want to design a spinning car. It sounds interesting.

First, I want to design it because this car is not available now, and this is the technology that may be used in the future or needed in the future. This car can float on the road. The car doesn't use tires to drive and just floats on the road. The car is like a semicircle.

Besides, the car uses electricity, not oil. It is very environmentally-friendly. There is a lot of space in the cabin. You can see outside clearly.

I want to design this to all spinning car drivers because this car is practical for the driver. The key is that this car is charged once every two weeks.

Cover Illustrated by:
6A WONG CHIN CHING
6A WONG CHIN YU

Tai Po Old Market Public School

Tel (852) 2665 4610

Fax (852) 2665 0590

Website tpomps.icampus.hk

E-mail tpomps@hotmail.com

©2023

Tai Po Old Market Public School

All rights reserved